COMMITTEE ON LABOR

REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE

ON THE LABOR MARKET

INTRODUCTION

The Committee on Labor, created by the Senate in 1914, has the honor to submit to the Senate its report on the labor market.

The Committee has held numerous public hearings and has received many suggestions from labor leaders, employers, and the public. It has also conducted extensive research into the various problems connected with the labor market.

The Committee believes that the most important problems connected with the labor market are: (1) the distribution of the work, (2) the distribution of the income, and (3) the distribution of the power.

The Committee has endeavored to find solutions to these problems.

The Committee believes that the most important solution is the establishment of a national labor board.

The Committee believes that the national labor board should have the power to investigate and report on the conditions of the labor market.

The Committee believes that the national labor board should also have the power to recommend legislation.

Respectfully,
Chairman
Committee on Labor

The Committee on Labor, created by the Senate in 1914, has the honor to submit to the Senate its report on the labor market.

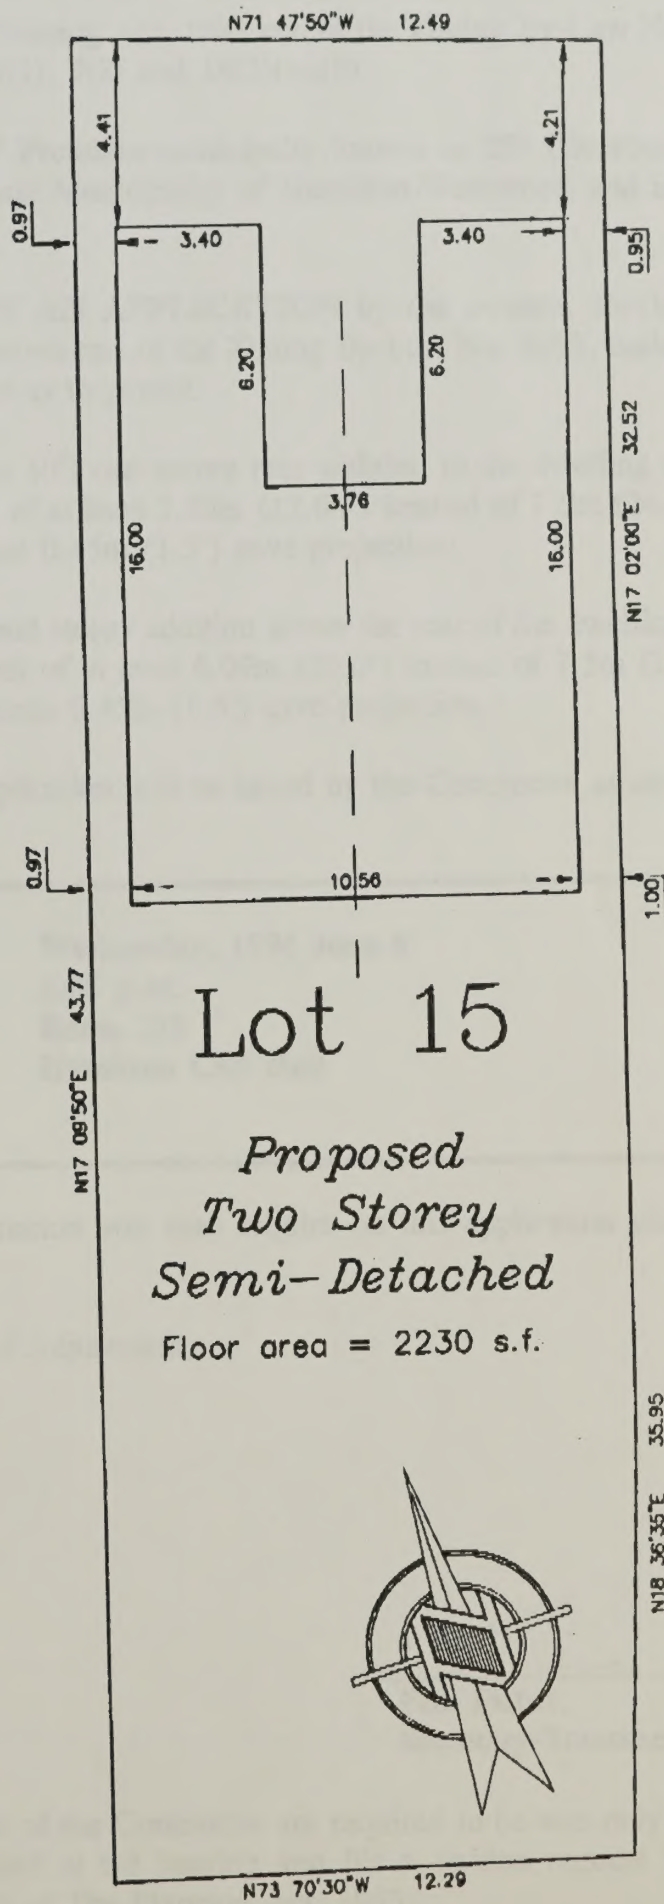

Very truly yours,

Chairman

The Committee on Labor, created by the Senate in 1914, has the honor to submit to the Senate its report on the labor market.

The Committee on Labor, created by the Senate in 1914, has the honor to submit to the Senate its report on the labor market.
